Hilton Central Schools 2010-11 Budget Proposal

Dear Hilton School District Resident:

Over the past decade, The Hilton Central School District has consistently been recognized as a high achieving school system and efficient organization. We have achieved this recognition by providing a well rounded, high quality education at a low cost as compared to other school districts in the region and state.

The national and state economy coupled with the state government's failure to approve an on-time budget has resulted in one of the most challenging budget seasons in the history of this school system.

Since January, members of our 12 budget committees, school and district officials and the Board of Education have been examining reductions and efficiencies in order to develop a responsible school budget that balances the needs of students with the community's ability to pay. Community input was sought throughout the budget process and guided our work and decision-making. The challenging economic circumstances we all are facing resulted in difficult reductions to staffing, programming, extracurricular opportunities and district operations.

As painful as these reductions are, they were necessary in order to minimize the financial impact on the local community. As a result, we have contained expenditures in the proposed 2010-11 close to current year expenditure levels and have also used reserve funds to minimize increases in property tax rates. The result is a proposed decrease in tax rates for the towns of Parma and Hamlin and a modest tax rate increase in the towns of Greece and Clarkson.

The Hilton Central School District has become a destination district due to the quality of our schools and resources in our region. We are proud of the accomplishments by our students and excellence demonstrated in our staff. Our district has been recognized for its academic success by state agencies and publications such as the State Education Department and Newsweek magazine. Our staff and students have received accolades for their academic, musical and athletic achievements. We have achieved a high level of success and at the same time have contained local property taxes. We currently enjoy the lowest cost per pupil when compared to the 21 suburban school districts in the Monroe County area and our cost is lower than 90% of all school districts in New York State. The proposed 2010-11 budget will require us to continue to do more with less. I hope the information contained in this newsletter and on our website will provide you with essential information needed to make an informed decision on May 18.

Sincerely,

David Dimpleby

Hilton Central Schools 2010-11 Budget Proposal

Budget proposal virtually frozen at current year level

The challenge to public school systems is to maintain a quality of education for all students while recognizing the limited resources available within the community. The 2010-11 Budget Proposal in the amount of $68,631,794, reflects a $115,898 total dollar increase over the current year budget, a 0.17% increase. The proposed budget is virtually frozen at the current year level. Tax rates are: 0.25% decrease for Parma; 2.84% increase for Greece and Clarkson; a 55.78% decrease for Hamlin as the Town is completing its full-value reassessment this year. Tax rates are based on an equalization rate of 100% and are set by the State's Office of Real Property Services and equalize the amount paid by each town by owners of homes of equal market value.

How has the Governor's proposed State Budget impacted us?

As things currently stand, the Governor's proposed state budget would result in the reduction of $3.2 million in state aid to the Hilton Central School District; or a 10% reduction in state aid. As a school system that receives a significant amount of aid, the potential loss of funds posed a real threat to opportunities for children and the organization as a whole. The Governor's proposed cut in state aid to the Hilton Central School District is twice the amount that the district lost last year at this time. To put this into perspective, when the current budget was rolled over including anticipated increases in health care, retirement, BOCES expenditures and contractual obligations and applied the proposed state aid reduction, we initially faced an unacceptable 17% increase in the local property tax rate to maintain the Hilton school system as it currently operates.

Academic Performance

The Hilton Central School District continues to achieve in state and national measures of student performance. In May 2009 Hilton High School was included in Newsweek magazine's list of top 5% of high schools in the country, an honor it received for the past five years. Hilton Central's music program at all levels continues to earn gold and superior ratings in competitions including the award-winning Percussion Drumline. Hilton has been a GRAMMY Signature School finalist, one of 150 finalists in a pool of 5,000 applicants nationwide, in three of the past six years. This year Quest Elementary teacher Suzanne Pilon received the prestigious Presidential Award for Math and Science Teaching and Merton Williams Middle School was recognized as a model middle school by NYS Education Dept.'s "Essential Schools to Watch," an honor reserved to only 200 schools nationwide. More than 85% of our graduates indicate they are continuing their education at two and four-year colleges.

The Budget Vote and You

The public vote on May 18, 2010 allows all district residents an opportunity to review the District's educational and fiscal progress over the past year. Budget development is a process open to the public. Budget Development Committees, Board of Education open meetings, and public review are made available at public presentations, in publications, on local cable television and on the District website. Hilton Schools' $68.6 million budget proposal provides education to 4,442 K-12 students including instructional and other services to special education students with disabilities such as speech, physical and occupational therapies, etc. to any qualifying district student under the review of the Committee on Special Education as well as over 340 private and parochial school students who are also eligible for services. Transportation services are provided to Hilton Central students as well as, by law, to private and parochial school students. For further information: www.hilton.k12.ny.us/

Hilton Central Schools 2010-11 Budget Frequently Asked Questions

■ What has been the effect of New York State fiscal crisis?

The ongoing Great Recession has given rise to one of the most severe State budget crises in recent memory. As of mid-April, the Governor and Legislature had not yet reached agreement on a plan to close a State budget deficit of nearly $10 billion. Included in the Governor's January 2010 budget proposal was a $2 billion reduction in aid to education, which translates into a 10% reduction for the Hilton School District, or $3.2 million. In the absence of a Legislative agreement on the Budget, the District has included this loss of aid in its revenue projections and has included a number of reductions in its proposed 2010-11 budget.

■ How has the State's delays in payment of State Aid affected Hilton?

Thus far there have been two disruptions to scheduled payments of school aid by the State of New York, one in late December and one in late March. The duration of these disruptions was short enough that the District was able to absorb the delay without the need to externally borrow. There have recently been indications from the State of another payment delay in June of unknown magnitude and duration. Due to the use of reserves planned in the 2010-11 budget, the District may need to consider an external borrowing of funds in the event that a June State Aid payment disruption does occur.

■ How does the Hilton District's tax rate compare to other districts in the county?

The District's 2009-10 tax rate was $22.38/$1,000 assessed valuation, which placed it seventh lowest among all districts in Monroe County.

■ Will the Marching Band still be funded in the 2010-11 budget?

During the budget development process, consideration was given to eliminating the funding of the Marching Band. This was a very difficult idea to consider as the Hilton Crimson Cadet Marching Band has a very rich and successful tradition and has been a source of community pride for decades. However, the participation levels in the Marching Band have dropped significantly in recent years, which precipitated consideration of its elimination. Due to the overwhelming outpouring of support for the continuation of the Marching Band, its funding was restored in the proposed 2010-11 budget, contingent on enrollment of 75 students by June 1, a member of the District's professional staff serving as Marching Band Director, and community approval of the budget proposal that includes funding for the Marching Band.

Hilton Central Schools 2010-11 Budget Frequently Asked Questions

■ What services would be affected by a 'contingency' budget? Voter approval of this budget will continue to provide students with core educational services, but in the event of a budget defeat NYS Education Law provides for a contingency budget in which there would be no equipment purchases beyond State-mandated limits and no community use of facilities without user fees. The maximum amount by which a public school may increase its budget under a contingent budget is based upon a formula that uses changes in the annual Consumer Price Index (CPI). Due to the fact that the CPI was unchanged over the past twelve months, a contingent budget is capped at the 2009-10 level. The proposed 2010-11 Budget represents an increase of $115,898 over the 2009-10 budget. Consequently, in the event that a contingent budget were adopted by the Board, the proposed budget would have to be reduced by no less than $115,898. Hilton CSD is obligated to honor all of the contracts as well as provide sports and transportation in the same manner as prior years.

■ What is the impact of the Budget Proposal on educational programs, services? The total volume of reductions made to the proposed 2010-11 budget was $3.1 million, representing 4.5% of total expenditures. Reductions of this magnitude cannot be made without visible changes in programs and services. Included in the reduction is the elimination of 28.8 full time equivalent positions. Consequently, class sizes will be larger in 2010-11, and there will be a reduction in the number of athletic and extracurricular activities for students. The spacing of bus stops will be increased, which will mean students may walk greater distances to reach their bus stops. There will be reduction in non-mandated student support service, including much of the summer programming. Finally there will be a reduction in the annual purchases of instructional computer hardware and software.

■ Has there been a impact on Pre-Kindergarten? A Pre-Kindergarten program for four-year-olds in the District began in 2007. The five-day a week, half-day session meets for two and a half hours per day; transportation provided by parents. The current enrollment for 2009-10 is 98 with 72 students located in district classrooms and 26 served by community-based preschool programs. New York State funding is projected to continue at the same level. As a result, the District does not expect to change enrollment for 2010-11.

■ What has been driving up the budget this year? A 21% increase in pension payments; a 10% increase in health insurance; an 8% increase in benefits have been the major drivers of budget increase.

■ What are the major components in this year's budget?

The following are the major components:

Hilton Central Schools 2010-11 Budget Frequently Asked Questions

■ What is the status of the Building Capital Reserve Fund? A Building Capital Reserve Fund was approved by voters in 2007 to appropriate up to $300,000 each year for the next five years to establish a $1.5-$2 million [plus interest] reserve fund which allows the District to support a future capital project [financing site work, construction/reconstruction of school buildings] of approximately $10-$15 million with no resulting increase in local taxes. This year the proposed Budget allocation has been reduced to $100,000 into the Capital Reserve Fund, a reduction of $150,000 from 2009-10, and total annual reduction of $200,000 from the original funding level.

Hilton High School students visit the National College Fair in Rochester for in the budget. They fully offset each other, resulting in no net impact on the tax levy. The Excel II project is expected to occur during the summer of 2010 and then be substantially completed by September. As was the case with Excel I, these amounts fully offset each other, resulting in no net impact on the tax levy.

■ Do the EXCEL I & II Maintenance & Renovation Projects funding affect this Budget Proposal? The Excel I project is substantially complete with just one classroom wing of abatement and ceiling replacement in Northwood to occur this summer. The debt service costs and State building aid revenues have been fully accounted

■ How much is spent per pupil in the Hilton Central School District and how does that compare to other districts? We measure cost per pupil by dividing the total district budget by the total student enrollment. The Hilton Central School District's average spending per pupil was $14,966 in 2009-10. This is the lowest per-pupil cost in Monroe County, and lower than 90% of all school districts in New York State.

Budget & Bus propositions on ballot

Proposition 1 Be it resolved that the Board of Education of the Hilton Central School District, County of Monroe, New York, is hereby authorized to expend the Budget as set forth showing expenditures of $68,631,794 and to levy the necessary taxes thereof.

Proposition 2 Resolved that the Board of Education of the Hilton Central School District is hereby authorized to undertake the acquisition of six, 65-passenger school buses at an estimated maximum cost of $100,000 each; four, 24-passenger wheelchair school buses at an estimated maximum cost of $70,000 each; and three, 7-passenger suburbans at an estimated maximum cost of $25,000 each at an estimated maximum aggregate cost of $955,000, less any trade-in value.

2010-11 Projected Tax Rates

TOWN	2009-10 Actual	2010-11 Projected	$ Change in Rate	% Change in Rate
Clarkson	$21.71	$22.33	$ 0.62	2.84%
Greece	$21.71	$22.33	$ 0.62	2.84%
Hamlin	$50.49	$22.33	($28.17)	-55.78%
Parma	$22.38	$22.33	($ 0.06)	-0.25%

True Value remains identical in all towns at 100%

Equalization rates vary from Town to Town. Every year the NYS Office of Real Property Services [www.orps.state.ny.us/] sets equalization rates for all Towns that have more than one school district within their boundaries. The equalization rate equalizes the amount paid in each town by owners of homes of equal market value. A home's assessed value is determined by the Town's Assessor based on structural formulas and market value. This year the Town of Hamlin has performed a full-value assessment. For further assessment information, please contact your Town Assessor.

■ How will the budget affect my tax bill? Changes in tax rates between towns can be difficult to compare, as they are dependent on the tax levy, total assessments in each town, and the percentage of full value at which each town's properties are assessed. For taxpayers in the towns of Clarkson and Greece, assessments for both 2009-10 and 2010-11 are at full value. For these residents, the tax rates are projected to increase by 2.84%. For Parma residents, their recent assessment update increased the town from 97% of full value to 100% of full value. This change factors into the tax rates, which will enable them to decline by an estimated 0.25%. Finally, residents of Hamlin are experiencing their first full value reassessment in over 25 years. This will bring them from assessments that were 43% of full value to 100% of full value. This in turn will cause a significant drop in the tax rate, an estimated 55.78%, bringing them in line with the other three towns, with the same projected tax rate. The taxes for an average house in the district assessed at $100,000 will increase by approximately $43. [qualifying for basic STAR exemption]. Taxes are projected to be approximately $1,563 on a home in the Hilton School District assessed at $100,000 [net of STAR]. The taxes in the Hilton School District are seventh lowest in Monroe County. Seniors with the "Enhanced" STAR exemption will see their taxes increase by approximately $25. For more on the STAR program see page 11.

Hilton Central Schools STAR [School Tax Assessment Relief]

NYS STAR property tax relief program: Basic and Enhanced

The Basic STAR exemption is available for owner-occupied, primary residences regardless of the owners' ages or incomes. Basic STAR works by exempting the first $30,000 of the full value of a home from school taxes. The Enhanced STAR exemption is available for the primary residences of senior citizens [age 65 and older] with yearly household incomes not exceeding the statewide standard of $74,700 which changes with the cost of living index. For qualifying senior citizens, the Enhanced STAR program works by exempting the first $60,100 of the full value of their home from school property taxes beginning in the 2010-11 school year. For property owned by a husband and wife, or by siblings, only one of them must be at least 65 years of age as of December 31 of the year in which the exemption will begin to qualify for the Enhanced exemption. Their combined annual income, however, must not exceed the STAR income standard. For information about the STAR rebate program, please visit the website of the State Dept. of Taxation and Finance www.orps.state.ny.us or call 1-877-678-2769. STAR exemptions must be renewed yearly [before March 1] for senior citizens [age 65] whose incomes do not exceed $76,650 at your Town Assessor's Office. For all other homeowners, the original application automatically renews as long as they own their home.
